EHS-27 INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

HEALTH SCIENCES AND PUBLIC HEALTH

February 20–21, 2027 | Bangkok, Thailand

Conference Tracks and Subtopics

1. Public Health and Epidemiology

- Epidemiology, disease surveillance, and population health
- Communicable and non-communicable disease prevention
- Health promotion, community health, and disease control
- Global health challenges and health inequalities

2. Clinical and Biomedical Research

- Clinical research, trials, and evidence-based medicine
- Medical diagnostics, treatment approaches, and patient outcomes
- Biomedical sciences, laboratory research, and medical innovation
- Translational medicine and personalized healthcare

3. Healthcare Management and Policy

- Healthcare administration, leadership, and organizational performance
- Health economics, financing, and resource allocation
- Healthcare quality, patient safety, and accreditation
- Health policy, healthcare systems, and regulatory frameworks

4. Nursing and Allied Health Sciences

- Nursing practice, education, and professional development
- Rehabilitation, physiotherapy, and occupational therapy
- Pharmacy practice, pharmaceutical sciences, and medication safety
- Nutrition, dietetics, and preventive healthcare

5. Mental Health and Community Well-being

- Mental health, psychological well-being, and resilience
- Community-based mental health services and interventions
- Health behaviour, lifestyle, and behavioural change
- Maternal, child, adolescent, and family health

6. Digital Health and Emerging Technologies

- Telemedicine, digital healthcare, and remote patient monitoring
- Artificial intelligence and data analytics in healthcare
- Electronic health records and health information systems
- Medical technology, wearable devices, and healthcare innovation

Research papers addressing health sciences, public health, healthcare systems, clinical practice, and medical innovation are welcome.