

EHS-27 INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

SOCIAL SCIENCES

February 20–21, 2027 | Bangkok, Thailand

Conference Tracks and Subtopics

1. Sociology and Social Policy

- Social structures, social change, and contemporary society
- Social inequality, poverty, and social inclusion
- Family studies, community development, and social relationships
- Social welfare, public services, and social policy

2. Psychology and Behavioural Sciences

- Social psychology, human behaviour, and interpersonal relationships
- Cognitive psychology, learning, and decision-making
- Mental well-being, resilience, and behavioural health
- Organizational psychology and workplace behaviour

3. Political Science and Governance

- Political theory, comparative politics, and political institutions
- Public administration, governance, and institutional development
- Public policy, political participation, and civic engagement
- International relations, diplomacy, and global cooperation

4. Anthropology, Culture, and Society

- Cultural anthropology, identity, and social traditions
- Cultural diversity, multiculturalism, and intercultural communication
- Migration, globalization, and population movements
- Heritage, language, and contemporary cultural change

5. Communication, Media, and Society

- Mass communication, digital media, and public opinion
- Social media, online communities, and digital culture
- Journalism, media ethics, and information literacy
- Communication strategies, public awareness, and social influence

6. Human Rights and Contemporary Social Issues

- Human rights, social justice, and equality
- Gender studies, empowerment, and equal opportunities
- Community participation, social development, and sustainability
- Globalization, urbanization, and emerging social challenges

Research papers addressing social sciences, human behavior, governance, culture, public policy, and contemporary social issues are welcome.